

Tactical base defense game MarZ Rising gets free demo, available now on Steam

Austrian indie developer doorfortyfour today released a free demo for their tactical base defense game, MarZ Rising. This new demo is available right now on the Steam page, and will give anyone the chance to try out the first 3 missions of the game's campaign, showing off a good chunk of what MarZ Rising has to offer, ahead of the full launch out of Early Access next year.

MarZ Rising is a game of strategy and tactical defense where players must build up bases in order to fight back mysterious hordes of undead horrors plaguing Mars. Carefully managing their crew and resources, players must try to uncover the terrible secrets of the undead horde in order to secure the future of humanity on the red planet.

Since launching into Steam Early Access last year, MarZ Rising has seen a number of game changing updates, adding new game modes, a full 20 mission story campaign, engine upgrades, Twitch mode and so much more.

MarZ Rising is currently in Steam Early Access, and will get a full launch in 2019.
